California Transparency in Supply Chains Act of 2010 and U.K. Modern Slavery Act of 2015 Statement

RTP Company is a global supplier of engineered thermoplastic compounds, sheet and film. RTP Company believes that principles of fairness, honesty and integrity guide all actions in dealing with our customers, our supplier, our employees and our communities.

Our suppliers are an integral part of our success. Our goal is to develop our products together with our suppliers. Therefore, we consider the common understanding of ethical business activity as the basis for our mutual success.

We expect our suppliers to observe all applicable laws and the RTP Company Code of Conduct for Suppliers in the course of their business activities.

While RTP Company is not aware of any material violations of our Code of Conduct we have not implemented any measures to combat such activity. On the topics of human trafficking and slavery, RTP Company does not presently engage in verification of its supply chain, audit its suppliers, or require certifications regarding the supplies that it receives. RTP Company does not currently maintain any internal accountability standards and procedures addressing human trafficking and slavery nor do we currently provide training to management and employees on those topics.

In the future, RTP Company intends to monitor and evaluate ways it may reduce the risk of human trafficking and slavery.
